the state election for September 7th, when state officers as well as the constitution will be voted upon.

Yesterday City Clerk James Outten, Secretary of the local Cigar Makers' Union, received a telegram from G. W. Peokins, President of the Cigar Makers International Union of America, which read: "I have just received a cablegram from Havana, Cuba, saying that the cigar makers' strike and lockout has ended." All of which is important news of general information.

One of the annual events of the summer season that is looked forward to with much expectancy and genuine pleasure is the fish fry given on the sandy Dover beach. Beside the menu of fish, cornbread and wet goods provided for the inner man, then it is the congenial spirits assembled indulge in a flow of reason and joy of soul. The event was set for several weeks ago, but owing to the high stage of the river, has been postponed. In the meantime, the Courthouse clique are impatiently possessing their souls for the day to arrive.

WAR OF 1898

Spanish-American Veterans Will Take Notice.

Several days ago Mayor Stallcup received the following letter which is self-explanatory.
THE LEDGER takes pleasure in giving the epistle a place in its columns in order that those interested may receive the benefit of its wide circulation:

HEADQUARTERS DEPARTMENT OF KENTUCKY,
UNITED SPANISH WAR VETERANS,
COVINGTON, KY., July 11th, 1907.

Mayor City of Maysville, Ky.—Dear Sir:
As the newly-elected Department Commander for Kentucky, I desire to increase the number of Camps.

We wish a Camp in your city, as Mason county is one of the many counties entirely without representation. A Camp consists of 10 or more Spanish-American soldiers, War of '98. Kindly give this publicity, so that I may get in immediate touch with one or more live ex-soldiers of the War of '98.

There were 4,000 men—4 regiments—from Kentucky, volunteers, from which hardly one-eighth is organized into this amalgamated order. If published, kindly send clippings for our Department files. Whatever action you may take in our interest will be appreciated.

Yours very truly,
CHARLES S. LAMBERT,
Department Commander.

TELEPHONE No. 43. G. W. GEISEL, OPPOSITE OPERA HOUSE

Ohio has $10,000,000 surplus in her State Treasury, while Kentucky has $294,000. The state of Ohio receives such a large sum from licenses on corporations under the Willis and Cole laws, that after paying all expenses a big surplus is accumulating in her Treasury, and the officials are now seriously considering the question of abolishing all state taxes. Kentucky needs a political shaking up, so that a more progressive set of statesmen can have a trial at framing and having passed laws which are up-to-date and that will put the Commonwealth upon an equal footing with the states that are now leaving her far behind in the business procession. Remember these things when you vote for WILLSON in November.

JUDGE PARKER, elected by the Democratic voters of Fayette county, in a recent speech before the Grand Jury, said:

"I do not like to say it, gentlemen, but I doubt if there is any place in this country that has so little regard for the laws as the people in this very county of Fayette."

The Democratic machine of Lexington salutes the Democratic machine of Louisville, and both unite in the kindest felicitations and congratulations to the boss machine at Frankfort. All Democratic cities and counties are alike. They are not run in the interests of the people, but solely for the benefit of the party. Democracy stands for old fogysm and decayed sentiment, which have blighted the onward march and the progress of a great commonwealth which should have otherwise been one of the best states among the "45."

THE Kansas City Journal says: "In the opinion of Secretary STRAUS, workmen should receive higher pay and be charged less for the necessities of life. Why, certainly. Every man should own a comfortable home, be out of debt and have a good big balance in the bank. But—er—how are you going to manage it?"

THE wonderful increase in railway earnings goes regularly on, and from week to week, month to month, and from year to year, the great traffic lines continue to pile up immense increases in net earnings. For the past five years the earnings of the L. and N. have been showing an increase every week over the corresponding period of the year before. This is a tremendous thing when you begin to think it over right. $5,000,000 increase for the year 1907 over 1906; and that year showed a large increase over 1905, and that year a large increase over 1904; and so on. Now the first week of July in the new fiscal year, starts off with an increase of $42,665 over the earnings for the same week last year. The Louisville and Nashville Railway Company is Kentucky's greatest corporation, and its splendid increases in earnings shows how good times are in spite of the most unfavorable conditions in this state and the dragging, pulling-back, old "befo' de wah" customs which prevail and will prevail until this entire living generation is laid away in the great republic of the dead, where nobody votes and there's nothing doing forever and ever.

Persians are fond of fine clothes. The usual costume for men includes a collarless shirt of light, pretty material, cut low at the neck, and with long, loose sleeves, a vest that fits closely to the figure, also with wide, flowing sleeves.

According to the world's postal statistics just issued, the Germans are the greatest writers of post cards, the number passing through the German Postoffice in the year 1905 being 1,299,000,000. Great Britain follows with 800,000,000 then the United States with 728,000,000. Americans are the greatest letter writers the total of 1905 being 4,645,750,000. Great Britain comes next with 2,707,000,000.

One of the biggest deeds ever filed with County Clerk Theodore Lewis was that which was filed yesterday afternoon by John T. Shelby, attorney for the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad of Kentucky, transferring the property of that company to the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad system.
The deed conveys 513.86 miles of railroad in Kentucky and all the holdings of that company in this state with the exception of 18,000 acres of coal land in the Eastern section of Kentucky.
The deed was handed in to County Clerk Theodore Lewis in book form, and covers about thirty pages. It is the largest deed filed during the regime of the present clerk, and will take Deputy Clerk Cassell several days to copy it in the deed book.
The transfer is made on the basis of $1 and other considerations, the real stipulation not being mentioned. It is worded in the most technical terms, and is a long record.

KEEPING LATE HOURS

ROWN HAWLEY, what time do you think it is?" Mrs. Hawley demanded from the depths of the bedroom.

Hawley pulled out his watch. "Bet I've looked at that watch 50 times since I found the main-spring broken on the way home to-night," he said, keeping a thumb between the leaves of his book. "Oh, I don't know—not late."

"Look at this!" She appeared in the doorway holding up a small bronze clock, whose hands were pointing to quarter past 12.

"That isn't right," he protested.

"But it is. I asked the telephone girl for the correct time before I started it this afternoon. Why, I just lay down on the bed by baby for a minute this evening and I must have dropped off and slept all this time. Have you been reading ever since I went into the bedroom?"

"Why, yes—unless I've been asleep in my chair. I would have sworn it wasn't later than ten."

"And we were going to bed early to-night so you could get a good start in the morning! Isn't it ridiculous? Come on, now. Don't read any more." Mrs. Hawley began to bustle about, fastening windows and turning off lights.

"I'll set the alarm for seven," she said. "I don't see how we could stand it to get up at six now. Come, hurry. It will be one o'clock before we're asleep."

They were just dozing off when a sound from the apartment overhead made Mrs. Hawley sit up in bed.

"What do you think of that?" she exclaimed, indignantly. "That man upstairs is playing ragtime at one o'clock in the morning!"

"It's a poor outlook for getting up early," Hawley agreed. "They're having a midnight party down below, too, from the noises that come up through the court."

"I'm going to see. It's no use trying to sleep while that piano's being thumped."

Accordingly, in dressing gown and slippers, Mrs. Hawley reconnoitered. It was a long time before she returned to the bedroom. "Brown," she said, then, "what kind of a building have we moved into?"

"A flat building," he answered, with husbandlike omniscience.

"Hark! They've been playing cards at their dining room table down there, and now they're making coffee. I saw them turn on the light in the kitchen just now and I smell the coffee. At two o'clock in the morning! And listen! That nice-looking Mr. Hess has just come in—now! Brown, we're certainly not obliged to endure such performances until this time in the morning—not in a respectable building. I shall complain to the agent tomorrow."

It seemed to the Hawleys that they had just closed their eyes when the ring of the alarm clock startled them. "You made a mistake setting it," Hawley declared, lighting a match to investigate. "No, sir," he added, in an aggrieved tone. "It's actually seven o'clock. Raining, too, and dark as a pocket."

Mrs. Hawley rubbed her eyes and accepted her fate courageously. With all the lights on to make the dark morning more cheerful, she flew about and had breakfast on the table in short order.

"Everybody except us seems to have overslept this dark morning," she remarked, complacently, as they sat down. "The building is perfectly still. The milkman's late again, too, but luckily I had some cream left over. I'm out of all patience with him. If it happens again I'll change."

"There he comes now," said Hawley. "I'll give him a breeze myself." Five minutes later an injured-looking man came back to his place at the table. "Mrs. Hawley," he demanded, "what time yesterday did you set that wonderful clock?"

"What do you mean? I didn't set it. I started it at half past three. And the funny part was that it happened to have stopped at the exact minute the telephone girl told me the time, so I just wound it without touching the hands."

"And didn't look at it again?" "Not until night. Mary Bartell was here and I went by her watch. Why?" He knitted his brows. "Then he looked up solemnly. 'You started it with the hands at quarter past six, thinking it was half past three, and you hustled me off to bed at half past nine. And it is now five o'clock in the morning.'"

As he was starting for his office at eight o'clock, still grumpy, she called him back to the door.

"It's important," she told him, as he came reluctantly up the stairs again. "I wanted to ask if you aren't glad we found out our mistake before I complained to the agent?"

"Pshaw! You've made me miss my train for that," was all he said.

But, though it sounded cross, she went back into her flat satisfied. As he turned the corner of the stairway going down she had caught him smiling.

MUSIC

What a Broad Field the Word Implies!

There is only one instrument that entirely covers this field and that is

The Victor

Talking Machine

It faithfully and unerringly reproduces all kinds of music, from the simplest to the most classical.

The Victor brings within the reach of every one the pleasure of hearing all the great artists in every line of music. Would you like to hear Caruso, Melba, Patti and the other great singers? It is not necessary for you to go to New York.

The Victor Brings These Great Artists to Your Own Home.

It is always a pleasure for us to show you the "Victor." Call and hear it played. Yours truly,

JOHN I. WINTER,
Maysville, Ky.

CONSTIPATION

"For over nine years I suffered with chronic constipation and during this time I had to take an injection of warm water once every 24 hours before I could have an action on my bowels. Happily I tried Cascarets, and today I am a well man. During the nine years before I used Cascarets I suffered untold misery with internal piles. Thanks to you I am free from all that this morning. You can use this in behalf of suffering humanity." B. F. Fisher, Roanoke, Ill.

TOBACCO MONOPOLY

How the Trust Has Strangled Competition and Gobbled Up Its Rivals

The Government will show that since its formation—seventeen years ago—the Tobacco Trust has, in addition to the smaller dealers, driven out of business and closed down permanently no fewer than forty-two large tobacco manufacturing establishments which it bought for the purpose of eliminating competition.

Attorney General Bonaparte will show that the Tobacco Trust paid a total of $30,965,331 for the forty-two plants and factories which it bought and closed.

Of this sum, $16,255,331.70 was paid in cash for the plants, and $1,005,000 was paid in preferred stock and $13,705,000 in common stock.

CRAZY OVER BILLY BRYAN'S

"Free" Propagandas—Lawrenceburg Man Believes Everything's on the Free List

At Lawrenceburg, Ind., a few days ago, Harry Laws, aged 39, was adjudged insane and taken to the Indianapolis Insane Hospital.

The relatives believe that he lost his reason by the constant study of economic problems and trying to memorize speeches of William Jennings Bryan.

Laws has been a devoted follower of Bryan for many years and always advocated free silver.

He became suddenly insane, and, entering a store near his home, in Sparta Township, gathered up a number of red bandana handkerchiefs and walked out of the building.

When the merchant asked for the pay of the articles Laws shouted: "Bryan is elected and everything is free! The day of the plutocrat is past! The people rule and only enemies of the republic ask for money!"

Procuring a pole he made a flag of the handkerchiefs and paraded along the pike shouting, "Hurrah for Bryan."

He was arrested and when placed in the County Jail refused to eat or drink, but continued to shout for Bryan.

20,000 PRESCRIPTIONS!

Does this seem incredible? Well, we have in the last five years filled this number of prescriptions. All being conveniently filed in our store, can be referred to and refilled in five minutes. What does this large prescription business mean? It says we have the confidence of the doctors of this locality. It means when you have a prescription to be filled you are going to bring it here. It means if we were not capable of filling prescriptions quickly, if we had not the very best ingredients for compounding them, the doctors would not send their patients to our store. If the doctors have confidence in us, so ought you. We notify you to bring all prescriptions to our store to be filled. Now, the next time you have a prescription to be filled bring it to us.

Doan's Kidney Pills will cure you. Maysville people endorse this claim:

Mrs. Mary Thomas, 204 Limestone street, Maysville, Ky., says:

"I am only too pleased to confirm the statement I made in the spring of 1900 recommending Doan's Kidney Pills, after they had relieved me of backache and other symptoms of kidney trouble. During the years that have elapsed since I made that statement I have had occasion to give Doan's Kidney Pills a further trial and I have found that it requires only a few doses to ward off attacks of kidney trouble. I can also point to the case of my boy, twelve years old, who at the time I first used Doan's Kidney Pills was troubled a great deal with weakness of the kidneys and could not control the secretions properly. I gave him Doan's Kidney Pills and he improved rapidly under their use. The relief he found has proved lasting and from his experience and mine I am certainly warranted in recommending Doan's Kidney Pills."

Women Avoid Operations

When a woman suffering from female trouble is told that an operation is necessary, it, of course, frightens her.

The very thought of the hospital, the operating table and the knife strikes terror to her heart.

It is quite true that these troubles may reach a stage where an operation is the only resource, but a great many women have been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after an operation has been decided upon as the only cure. The strongest and most grateful statements possible to make come from women who by taking made from native roots and herbs, have escaped serious operations, as evidenced by Miss Rose Moore's case, of 307 W. 26th St., N. Y. She writes:

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

"Dear Mrs. Pinkham:- Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has cured me of the very worst form of female trouble and I wish to express to you my deepest gratitude. I suffered intensely for two years so that I was unable to attend to my duties and was a burden to my family. I doctored and doctored with only temporary relief and constantly objecting to an operation which I was advised to undergo. I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; it cured me of the terrible trouble and I am now in better health than I have been for many years."

This and other such cases should encourage every woman to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before she submits to an operation.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women

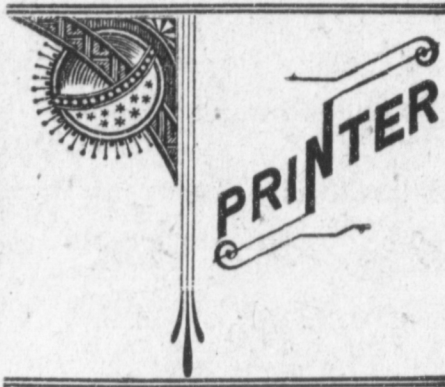

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. From the symptoms given, the trouble may be located and the quickest and surest way of recovery advised.
